

PLS 2.2

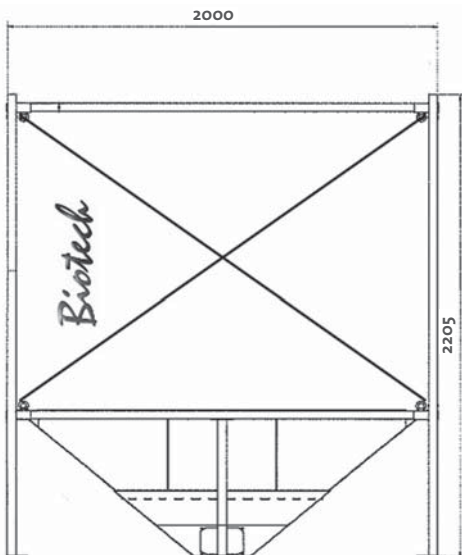

Our know-how saves space at your home!

The Biotech PLS 2.2 has been developed specially for pellets-storage. The construction and design features a maximum of storage space in case of least space availability. The integrated concentrated suction-system functions entirely without mechanical moved parts and guarantees an interference-free pellets supply of your heating system. The integrated wear protection ensures a gentle filling and a therefore high durability. Save yourself some space with PLS 2.2
